The Secretary reported that the Bill further to amend the Mysore Land Revenue Code, Regulation IV of 1888, and the Bill further to amend the City of Mysore Improvement Regulation, 1903, received the assent of His Highness the Maharaja on the 11th January 1909.

THE PRESIDENT.—With the permission of the Council and for the convenience of the Revenue Commissioner (Rajakaryapravina Mr. A. Rangaswami Iyengar) there will be a slight change in the order of subjects to be taken up. I now call upon Mr. Rangaswami Iyengar to move proposition No. 14 on the agenda.

The Bill to provide a law relating to Treasure-Trove in Mysore.

RAJAKARYAPRAVINA MR. A. RANGASWAMI IYENGAR then moved that the report of the Select Committee on the Bill to provide a law relating to treasure-trove in Mysore and the Bill as amended by the Committee be taken up for consideration; and in doing so, he said :—

SIR,—In presenting the report of the Select Committee on the treasure-trove Bill, I beg leave to state that at the meeting of this Council on 16th December 1908, this Bill was introduced by me and read in Council and a Select Committee appointed. The provisions of the Bill were very carefully examined by the Select Committee at its meetings and a few alterations and additions which were considered necessary were adopted. The Committee were unanimous as regards all the alterations proposed excepting one on which Mr. Nagappa has recorded a note of dissent. The Bill as altered in Committee was published with a detailed report with Notification No. 13, dated 13th July 1909. Thus the Bill as amended has been before the public for more than six weeks but has not so far elicited any complaint or unfavourable criticism.

Before proceeding to state the changes introduced into the Bill by the Select Committee in order to show in what respects it differs from Act VI of 1878 of the Government of India, I beg briefly to refer to the circumstances under which this Bill was undertaken.

As the Members of this Council are aware, the existing law on treasure-trove is contained in Chief Commissioner's Notification No. 6, dated 17th April 1867, which was adapted from Regulation XI of 1832 of the Madras Code. The Government of India Act, VI of 1878, was then passed (as explained by the Hon'ble Sir Edward Bayley) after a careful consideration of the principles of the law on the subject prevailing in many of the States of Europe.

Though the legality of the notification of the Chief Commissioner was doubted so early as 1886 and though the need for the early passing of a Regulation was admitted, the members of the Mysore Government were unwilling to materially alter the provisions of the notification which had been in force and had been acted upon for many years. Many drafts were tentatively prepared and considered but it was finally resolved to adopt the British enactment with suitable alterations. A Draft Regulation was accordingly prepared and submitted to the Council and the same as finally revised by the Select Committee is now before the Council.

With the assistance of marginal notes and the special printing of the clauses in the Draft Bill the Council will be able to follow the changes that have been introduced and to judge of their appropriateness. I shall proceed to refer to them in the order in which they occur in the Bill.

The first addition that calls for notice is the definition of the term "finder" which has been added in clause 3. Though the meaning of the word is fairly clear and simple, some difficulty might be felt in deciding under certain circumstances as to who should be considered to have really found the treasure and it was considered advisable to add a definition to indicate in what sense "finder" should be construed. The definition or comment is added to indicate that the employer or the principal at whose bidding the actual finder of the treasure worked should be regarded as the finder. When it is recollected that articles discovered in the course of the explorations directed by the Archæologists and others could come under the class of treasure-trove, the practical use of this definition would be obvious.

An additional clause has been added to the definition of "owner" expressly bringing out the right of Government to step in as owner of the land where the treasure-trove might be found, in accordance with the intention of the Select Committee to reserve to Government the right to claim a part of the treasure-trove under certain circumstances, and I shall have to refer to this provision in greater detail later on.

Sections 8 and 9 of Act VI of 1878 provide for treasure being considered ownerless unless there is reason to believe that the treasure was hidden within 100 years before the date of its being found. But as in practice it would be very difficult for any person to produce evidence to prove that it was so hidden and as it is possible to conceive of cases where the right of a person to claim the treasure could be made out, though without being able to prove satisfactorily that the treasure had been hidden within that period, it has been considered advisable to safeguard such rights by adding the words "or otherwise" in clauses 11, 12 (b) and 13.

I now beg to refer to clause 16 of the Bill, which is a provision contained in the Rules of 1867 and which the Government has thought fit to retain in the new enactment and which is the only provision which has been objected to by one of the members of the Select Committee in the note of dissent already referred to.

I have to refer to this out of its order as the modification in clause 12 is only a logical consequence of it and would not be clear without reference to it. As it is an important deviation from the policy of Act VI of 1878, I think it desirable to discuss it in some detail. The Hon'ble Sir Edward Bayley when introducing the Bill relating to "Treasure-Trove" referred to the policy which had ruled the various systems of the law on the subject and observed that "the principle which the existing Indian Law, so far as there was any law, had adopted, was practically that of the Middle Ages;" that "according to it the State might be said to assume its right but to waive it on certain conditions and within certain limits in favor of the finder;" and that "where no prior claim could be proved, it was at least a fair contention that property of any value so found should pass to the public treasury and be used for the purposes of the general community." Again, in presenting the report of the Select Committee for consideration he observed that "the existing law was founded upon the principle that all treasure-trove lapsed to and became the property of the State. That was a principle which was in theory perfectly defensible and was not to be denied." When introducing the Bill before the Legislative Council, he remarked that "he might say roughly that the purport of the law in this respect was to assert the general right of the State but to waive that right upon certain conditions in favor of the finder when the property did not exceed the value of a lakh of rupees though the law had never brought one single rupee worth to the Government Treasury." Notwithstanding these clear admissions in favor of the State, its right was deliberately abandoned in the hope that by such a measure finders would be induced to readily come forward and report all cases of the discovery of hidden treasure. It is difficult to say how far this hope was realized as there are no statistics available on the subject. But there are other reasons which I shall presently mention, from which it will be clear that the surrender of the rights of Government can really have no effect one way or the other.

The Government does not claim any share in the treasure-trove when it does not exceed a lakh and if such a sum cannot be a sufficient bait for report of the find, it is very unlikely, nay impossible, that the release of Government claim upon the excess can be a more potent factor. Though no instances of hidden treasure exceeding a lakh in value have been reported, it cannot be asserted that in India some cases of the kind may not come to light, and Mr. Bayley himself said "that there was much hidden treasure in India, and that much was being perpetually brought to light in various parts of the country and that very large portion of it was of importance." Even though the Government may surrender their right, they cannot very well ignore the claims of others and to a great degree it is the vague fear of such possible claims coming in conflict and depriving the finder entirely of his gain and, also, in part, the secretive nature of the people which is averse from admitting the coming of hidden treasure even in a lawful manner, which have operated to prevent the discovery of hidden treasure seeing the light of day. At best these are only inducements to the finder to report cases of the discovery of hidden treasure. But the penalties attaching to the omission to report such cases are so severe that, to a reasonable mind, they should have a much stronger force than even those inducements, and if these fail, it is scarcely likely that the mere fact of the Government foregoing its right to the excess over one lakh can be more effective.

I can, therefore, confidently submit to the Council that no good purpose is served by sacrificing the right of Government in toto and making an innovation in the law or policy which has been in force in the State for many years.

I may also submit that almost all the high officers of this State including Mr. Thumboo Chetty, Mr. Chentsal Rao, Sir Sheshadri Iyer, and Sir P. N. Krishna Murti have held the opinion that the policy of our Rules was safer to follow than that of Act VI of 1878 in this respect.

These remarks are, I believe, sufficient to meet the objection of Mr. Nagappa. I may also point out that he is slightly in error in thinking that the law as administered in British India, i.e., Act VI of 1878, is practically the law of the Middle Ages, which, as explained by the Hon'ble Sir Edward Bayley, is quite the reverse.

In Section 12 some modification has been introduced in para 2 to give effect to this policy and also the share of the finder has been reduced to half instead of three-fourths as in Act VI of 1878. The latter alteration was made in the original Draft Bill as presented to the Council in accordance with the views expressed by the various officers of the State.

In clause 19 a provision has been introduced to make the procedure clear and in order to safeguard the rights of persons who might have been, without any fault of their own and under justifiable circumstances, prevented from coming forward to present their claims within the time prescribed in the Deputy Commissioner's notification.

It remains for me now only to commend for the favorable consideration of the Council the recommendation of the Select Committee that in any case the finder should be indemnified for his trouble and should be granted such reasonable compensation including actual expenses incurred when he is not otherwise benefited by the discovery. The existing rules provide for it and it is but reasonable that he should have this advantage not only as a matter of justice but also to serve as an inducement against concealment of the discovery of any treasure.

In conclusion, I have only to urge that we have adhered in the main to the law as it is in force in British India, that the modifications we have introduced do not materially cut into the rights of the finder and are not in any way calculated to make him less inclined to report the discovery of any treasure; and I therefore beg to move under Section 46 of the Rules relating to the conduct of the business of this Council, that the Bill and the report be taken into consideration at once.

RAJAMANTRAPRAVINA MR. C. SRINIVASAIYENGAR seconded the motion.

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA in supporting the same spoke as follows:—

SIR,—I have to say one or two words in this connection. It appears to me that a considerable amount of controversy might be raised on the insertion of the words "or otherwise" in clauses 11 and 12 of the Bill. The question of limitation does not arise in this case, because it cannot be said that either the treasure-trove was in the possession of any person who originally deposited it or his representative, or in the adverse possession of the party who is in possession of the field or the land in which it was buried. But, as a matter of convenience, I believe, it was decided, when the Act of British India was passed, that 100 years should be taken practically as the limit of time within which a claim might be advanced. Of course, it would be difficult to conceive of cases in which parties would be able to prove that the treasure which had been buried more than 100 years before had belonged to their ancestors. The effect of introducing the expression "or otherwise" in these clauses would be practically to take away this limitation and to make it open to the parties to prove that the property that has been buried any number of years previous to the discovery might have belonged to their ancestors. As I already observed, it would be extremely difficult to make good such a contention. And taking into consideration this difficulty, I am disposed, after all, to agree with the learned mover of the Bill, that there would be no harm in retaining the expression "or otherwise."

Perhaps it may also interest the Council to know what the Hindu Law on the subject of the treasure-trove is. It would show that, in matters of this kind, lapse of centuries would make little difference. The Hindu Law has it that when a man can prove his claim to the treasure-trove, the King shall take one-sixth or one-twelfth part of it: and the commentators say that, of the treasure-trove which is secretly buried in the ground, the amount taken by the King would depend on the virtues of the finder, his caste, etc. There was no limitation prescribed for the claims of owners. In fact that property only was considered treasure-trove, of which the owner was not known. It is also provided that notice should be given to the King, failing which the finder was liable to be treated as a thief. The owner of the land was not entitled to any share at all under the old law. The King was entitled to a half or to nothing if the finder happened to be a Brahmin. These are the main provisions, and they show that there is not very much difference between the law of ancient India and that of the present; and between the law in this respect in the Middle Ages and at present in Europe.

The only other point is that connected with the amendment proposed by Mr. B. Nagappa, viz., that the Government should give up their claims to the excess above one lakh of rupees in value. As was observed by the Revenue Commissioner, it is rarely that such cases would occur and, in fact, no such cases have been known to us. As the section is rather providing practically for imaginary cases, it is just as well that we keep the present limit of a lakh of rupees in our proposed Regulation.

For these reasons, I beg to support the motion of the Revenue Commissioner.

MR. TIRUMALACHAR.—I beg also to support Mr. Rangaswami Iyengar's motion. With reference to Mr. Nagappa's remarks on clause 16 of the Bill under consideration, I beg to state that whatever may have been the law under the Roman Emperors of old, or in the Middle Ages of Europe, ancient Indian law at all events was in favor of the King's taking one-half of all hidden treasure discovered. The Institutes of Manu to which Mr. Nanjundayya just now referred contain a distinct provision that the King's share in the treasure-trove shall be one-half. I think he anticipated me by quoting the translation from Manu. But I think there is another passage in Manu which, for the information of the Council, I may be permitted to read:—

ನಿಧೀನಾಂತು ಪುರಾಣಾನಾಂಧಾತೂನಾಮೇವಚಕ್ಷಿತೌ । ಅರ್ಧಭಾಗ್ರಕ್ಷಣಾದ್ರಾಜಾಭೂಮೇರಧಿಪತಿರ್ಹಿಸಃ ॥

"The King obtains one-half of ancient hoards, and metals (found) in the ground by reason (of his giving) protection, (and) because he is the lord of the soil."

(The Institutes of Manu, chapter 8, verse 39.)

MR. NANJUNDAYYA quoted the earlier passage in the same chapter, which is,

ಮಮಾಯಮಿತಿಯೊಬ್ರೂಯಾನ್ನಿಧಿಂಸತ್ಯೇನಮಾನವಃ । ತಸ್ಯಾದದೀತಷಡ್ಭागंರಾಜಾದ್ವಾದಶಮೇವವಾ ॥

"From that man who shall truly say with respect to treasure-trove 'this belongs to me,' the King may take one-sixth or one-twelfth part."

(The Institutes of Manu, chapter 8, verse 35.)

As Mr. Rangaswami Iyengar explained, the chances of a person discovering more than a lakh of rupees worth of treasure-trove will be extremely rare, and may not be even one in ten thousand. The finder will practically get almost all the treasure and the King will get little or nothing. Under these circumstances, I support clause 16 of the Bill as it stands and think that it is a good provision; for this reason that even Manu did not contemplate that the King should not receive anything. On the other hand, he expressly laid down that he shall receive one-half in all cases. This is the very old law which had been replaced by the law of the Middle Ages and here, in Mysore, we have a very wholesome provision made that the finder shall be entitled to the treasure up to one lakh of rupees and anything beyond shall go to Government.

The motion for the consideration of the report of the Select Committee and the Bill as amended by them was put to the Council and carried.

RAJAKARYAPRAVINA MR. RANGASWAMI IYENGAR then moved that the following proviso be added to clause 8 of the above Bill, viz.:—

"Provided that in the event of the claimant succeeding in his suit, it shall be competent to the Civil Court to award the finder a reward not exceeding one-fourth the value of the treasure."

In so doing, he said:—

SIR,—As the members of the Council are well aware, under the Bill as it stands, the finder will get half the treasure when the same is declared ownerless. This would be a sufficient inducement for him to report the find and also sufficient compensation for his trouble or the luck which helped him to find the treasure. But when under clause 8 the claimant to the treasure is referred to a Civil Court and eventually succeeds in establishing his right to the treasure either as the owner himself or as the successor of the original owner of the property, the Civil Court will have no option but to decree the whole of the treasure to the claimant. The finder will then have to go without any reward for the trouble he has taken. The object of the new enactment is to increase the chances of the report of the finding of the treasure. If the finder has to go without any reward and if he is kept in fear that in case he makes the find public some claimant might appear and carry off the whole without leaving anything to himself, the chances are that such finder will rather try to conceal the discovery than report it. To give him some substantial portion of the treasure for discovering it would be to offer him an incentive to the publication of the discovery.

It was with this object that the Select Committee recommended some addition to the Bill. But they did not feel themselves justified in making that addition at that stage, as they wanted to ascertain the sense of this Council before their intention was reduced to practice.

Now, with the permission of the Council, I beg to move that this additional clause be added to clause 8 of the Bill.

MR. C. SRINIVASAIENGAR.—Under clause 11, if there is no owner of the land claiming the treasure or other person entitled to it, the finder gets the whole. Under clause 12, the finder shares the treasure with the owner of the land or with the person who establishes his right to it in some other manner. There is only one class of cases in which, as the Bill now stands, the owner will go without anything for himself: that is, the cases contemplated in clause 8. If a person comes forward and proves that the treasure belongs to him, that it was hidden by him or by some person through whom he claims, within the past 100 years,—that person is entitled to a decree from a Civil Court for the possession of the treasure. In such cases, the finder will get nothing. And it is possible that in such cases the finder will have incurred some expenses for which he should be re-imbursed. Under the present rules, there is provision for re-imbursing him even as a reward. So, some provision for this was considered reasonable by the Select Committee and I am glad that the Government have viewed the Committee's recommendation favorably.

I accordingly beg to second the motion.

The Council agreed unanimously to the adoption of the proviso to clause 8.

MR. NAGAPPA.—SIR,—I beg to move that clause 16 of the above Bill and the words in italics appearing in clause 12, viz., "not exceeding a lakh of rupees in amount or value" and the word "remainder" occurring after the words "the other half" be omitted.

As has been observed by the learned mover (Mr. Rangaswami Iyengar), the provision contained in clause 16 is a new departure from the Indian Act. The reason that has been adduced against my amendment, so far as I can gather from the learned mover's speech, is that the reason which induced the Government of India to waive its claim was the hope (of the Hon'ble Sir Edward Bayley) that the finders would come forward and report about the treasure discovered by them.

The simple answer to this argument is that the penalties which have been imposed by this Regulation are so very severe as would act as a check to the finder against not reporting. He will not only lose the treasure, but will also be prosecuted. So, I submit that the reason which induced the Hon'ble Sir Edward Bayley to waive the claim in British India is amply met by the penalties.

The second reason alleged by the mover is that the provisions of clause 16 have been in force for many years, that several statesmen have expressed themselves in its favor and that there is therefore no reason to make a new departure now.

I may bring to the notice of the Council that the Notification of 1867 is of doubtful legality, inasmuch as it has not received the sanction of the Government of India. If that measure was not called in question, it was because cases have not occurred to enforce that rule. Mainly to rely upon a measure which is of doubtful legality and to say that we have to enforce it is, I submit, to stand on a very slippery ground.

The learned mover said that I was in error in thinking that the law in British India is that of Middle Ages.

I may only refer him to Hon'ble Sir Edward Bayley's speech in support of my contention :—

"The principle which the existing Indian Law, so far as there was any law, "had adopted, was practically that of the Middle Ages. It might be said to assume "the right of the State, but to waive it on certain conditions and within certain "limits in favor of the finder. He thought that on broad principles of equity, "that principle might very fairly be defended. Where no prior claim could be "proved, it was at least a fair contention that property of any value so found "should pass to the public treasury, and be used for the purposes of the general "community. The real objection in adopting this principle was, that in practice "it could not be enforced and as in the case of all other laws which could not be "enforced, it became not only useless, but mischievous and demoralizing. He did "not mean to assert that the real reason of the provisions of the Indian Law or of "the English Law from which it was mutated, showed that it actually was founded "on this principle. He believed as a matter of history that it was founded rather "on feudal ideas which it was unnecessary here to discuss. The principle which "the present Bill proposed to adopt was that, practically of the old Roman Law of "the Emperor Hadrian, and of the French and Louisianian Codes and to a certain "extent also, as he would presently explain, of the law as it now stood (for it had "been not very long since altered) in Denmark."

The 4th reason urged against my amendment is that cases of the nature covered by my amendment are very rare. My answer is that the cases are very rare is no reason why we should give up a principle. The principle is whether the State has any right to claim the property. The antecedent right of the person has been recognized in the Bill by a distinct provision. When we have recognized that, how can the State come forward and say "we can only recognize your right up to a lakh of rupees"? It is only just that the State should give up the entire right.

RAJAMANTRAPRAVINA MR. C. SRINIVASIENGAR.—It is the case of the finder that is contemplated in clause 16 and not of the owner.

RAJAKARYAPRAVINA MR. A. RANGASWAMI IYENGAR.—It is only the finder that will not be given more than a lakh. Anything above that will go to Government. The owner of the treasure, if he proves his claim, gets the whole.

MR. B. NAGAPPA.—The finder steps in when the antecedent rights are not recognized. My learned friend Mr. Tirumalachar quoted from Manu a passage laying down the law about the treasure-trove. But my doubt is whether at any time that law was enforced. The modern tendency in all countries is not to recognize the right of the State to the hidden treasure discovered. The law in England is quite different from the law in British India. English Law follows for the most part the feudal system; and we cannot bring in the analogy of the English Law with reference to Indian conditions, where the land tenure is so different. On principle, the State should not come in for any portion of the treasure-trove.

The motion was not seconded and was accordingly lost.

RAJAKARYAPRAVINA MR. A. RANGASWAMI IYENGAR.—There is another motion standing in my name, and that is, that the Bill as amended be taken up and passed at a subsequent meeting of Council.

We have had a fairly full discussion of the amended Bill as published and placed before the Council; and Mr. Nagappa, who had recorded a Note of Dissent on one point in the Select Committee and who had also moved on the same subject here, was not seconded. I think the Government have not received any objections from the public. So, it is only to be passed after reasonable notice. Hence, I move that the Bill be taken up and passed at the next meeting.

RAJAMANTRAPRAVINA MR. C. SRINIVASIENGAR seconded the motion.

The motion was put to the Council and carried.

Bill further to amend the Code of Civil Procedure.

MR. S. NARAYANA RAO.—SIR,—I beg to move that leave be granted to withdraw the Bill introduced at the meeting held on Monday the 21st February 1908, relating to the amendment of Section 310A of the existing Code of Civil Procedure. When this Bill was introduced at the said meeting, the British Indian Legislature had under their contemplation the remodelling of their whole Code of Civil Procedure. They have subsequently passed their Act V of 1908, recasting the Civil Procedure Code and re-arranging certain portions thereof on different principles altogether. In view of the fact that a motion will next be made for permission to introduce a Bill to consolidate and amend the law relating to the procedure of the Courts of Civil Judicature in this State also, based on the Indian Act V of 1908, it is desirable that the present Bill should be withdrawn. I therefore ask for permission to withdraw the same.

MR. K. S. CHANDRASEKHARA AIYAR seconded the motion.

The motion was put to the Council and carried.

Bill to consolidate and amend the law relating to the Procedure of the Courts of Civil Judicature in Mysore.

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA, in moving for leave to introduce the above Bill said as follows:—

SIR,—The object of this Bill which I have the honour to present to you is to introduce into Mysore the Code of Civil Procedure in the form adopted in British India in Act V of 1908, after the long deliberations of an exceptionally strong Committee, among whom our present learned Chief Judge was one of the prominent members. The present Code contains 653 sections, but a glance at the Bill before you will show that the number of sections is reduced to 158, which is about a fourth of the old size. A comparison of the table of contents with that prefixed to the Code now in force will likewise show that a large number of omissions and alterations have been made. You need not, however, be startled by these apparent changes, and imagine that we have placed before you any radical or revolutionary piece of legislation. Appended to the main Regulation are a number of orders to which almost the whole of the matter left out in the body is transferred almost bodily. They contain altogether 564 sections, so that you will see there has been no reduction in the bulk of this huge enactment. What then, it may be asked, is the necessity for this drastic change of form in the Code?, for, it is undoubted that there are always serious inconveniences in altering the form and the familiar numbering of the provisions of a Code so often consulted in practice. Those who have learnt their law in the old Code will always be at a loss, where a familiar rule which they can quote by memory from the old Code is found in the new, and will need a concordance to help them to find out whether a reported decision is in accordance with what was the previous view.

The object of the Indian legislature seems to have been mainly twofold. The old Code had put together all its provisions in a certain logical order indeed but without due discrimination of their comparative importance, and rules involving important principles of jurisprudence which could scarcely be altered were placed along with rules of minor procedure which would need changing often according to place and experience gained in the course of their administration. The second fact that was chiefly instrumental in dictating the change was that the Code had to be applied over such a large area consisting of various provinces differing in the intelligence and progress of the people, and of various kinds of judges and lawyers, that it was considered highly desirable to give each province certain latitude in adapting their rules of minor procedure to their needs. The latter consideration does not apply to a small homogeneous State like ours. But the first reason is equally important here as in British India. Moreover, after the institution of this Legislative Council, the mode of bringing about alterations in law has become somewhat more complicated than before, and it is unnecessary that changes in minor rules of procedure which are mainly based on reasons best appreciated by practical professional lawyers should be subjected to all the formalities of a passage through the regular legislative body of the State. There is another though comparatively unimportant advantage which practising lawyers will have,—they will find it easy to refer to reported decisions of the British Courts and to commentaries published in British India as authorities in the course of their pleading.

Turning now to the provisions of the Bill, as I have already mentioned, there are only a few alterations of the law as now in force. What these are may be easily found out by a reference to any good commentary on the Indian Code, of which many have already been published. They will no doubt be taken into due consideration by us before this Bill is finally passed. In the draft before you, we have merely made the verbal alterations required to apply the Code to our State. We have retained those few special provisions which are peculiar to Mysore. These can be easily discovered by referring to the sections whose numbers are given in the margin of the Bill, and more easily by going over the smaller paper in which the alterations made in the British Act are indicated. As examples of our local provisions, I may mention the explanation to Section 43; the exemption of members of the Barr and Sillhedar Forces from arrest, Section (55); the three clauses added to Section 60, of which the last relating to Military retiring fund is new; the omission of reference to suits against Government (clause 17); the allowing of second appeals on questions of fact (clause 21); the alteration of the pecuniary limit to bar second appeals (clause 22); and the insertion of a protective provision in favour of Judicial officers (clause 37). The list given for the constitution of the Rules Committee in Section 123 (clause 25) is a tentative one deserving further consideration before being finally adopted.

I now beg to move that permission may be kindly accorded to me to introduce this Bill to consolidate and amend the laws relating to the procedure of the Courts of Civil Judicature.

MR. S. NARAYANA RAO seconded the motion and said:—

SIR,—There is one great advantage to both the Judges and Practitioners in this Province in having a Code of Civil Procedure similar in form to that in force in British India; they will often have to refer to decisions in other Courts and it will be easier for them to do so if the same form of the Code is adopted here also. There is, of course, not much difference between the old and the new Code. The new Code is virtually formulated on the same principle as the old. There are, of course, some departures in certain sections. These will receive full consideration in the Council.

MR. B. NAGAPPA.—It gives me great pleasure to support the motion just now made. It is not too early for us to have thought of such a measure. It ought to have been introduced much earlier. The Act came into force in British India on the 1st January 1909. As the learned mover has thought fit to embody in the Bill all the provisions which are peculiar to Mysore, especially those relating to second appeals on questions of fact and those relating to Sections 43 and 17, I think it ought to have the heartiest support of all the members of the Bar.

The motion was put to the Council and carried.

Bill to consolidate and amend the law relating to the Limitation of Suits and for other purposes in Mysore.

In moving for leave to introduce the above Bill, Mr. H. V. Nanjundayya said :—

SIR,—I do myself the honour to move that leave may be granted to me to introduce a Bill for the consolidation and amendment of the Law of Limitation in Mysore. The proposed measure is mainly one of consolidation and opportunity is taken to introduce a few minor alterations required by the decisions of Courts on some disputed points. It is unnecessary to enter into any details at this stage.

The motion was seconded by Mr. S. Narayana Rao and supported by Mr. B. Nagappa. It was then put to the Council and carried.

Bill to consolidate and amend the law relating to Insolvency in Mysore.

In moving for leave to introduce the above Bill, Mr. H. V. Nanjundayya said as follows :—

SIR,—The Law of Bankruptcy is a highly developed branch of commercial law in modern countries. Its main underlying principles are that an honest debtor who tries his best to honestly meet his obligations, but is unable to do so owing to circumstances beyond his control, shall not be for ever weighted down by the incubus of his debts, but may have a chance of retrieving his misfortunes by devoting himself afresh to some other business. It is true that in practice as many at least of dishonest men get the benefit of this law as those who have been scrupulous in their dealings and honorable in their intentions. The old-world idea, which fortunately is still entertained by not a few persons in our society, is that debt is a pious obligation which can be dissolved only by a substantial discharge; and many more persons are restrained from having recourse to the provisions of the Law of Bankruptcy by an active sense of the stigma that attaches to a discharged bankrupt.

Our present law on this subject is contained in Chapter XX of the Code of Civil Procedure; but it deals with the subject only in a fragmentary manner. It cannot be availed of except by a debtor who has been actually arrested in execution of a decree or by a creditor, who has already obtained a decree in his favor. But, under the proposed law, the remedy can be obtained both by debtors and by creditors in a larger number of cases. It is likely that as the spirit of speculation is largely wanting in the subjects of this State, Courts will not be resorted to in many cases. In such matters, example has a large influence in showing people that it would be an advantage to get rid of obligations they cannot possibly fulfil and to endeavour to restart in life unhampered by their burden, and in blunting their sense of honour. The lack of such examples fortunately is also likely to render the use of these new provisions rare for a long while. But as we have omitted the insolvency provisions in the new Bill, it is at any rate necessary that they should be either retained there or re-enacted in some other shape. It is just as well that we should have a fuller enactment, even though all the provisions may not immediately be required for practical application; and as the subject is one that does not readily fall within the proper scope of a law of ordinary Procedure of Courts, it is considered expedient to adopt the British Indian Act.

It is unnecessary to refer to the provisions of the Bill in detail at this stage. They will no doubt receive full consideration before being finally approved. I beg now to move that leave may be granted to me to introduce this Bill before the Council.

MR. S. NARAYANA RAO.—SIR,—In seconding this motion, I wish to state that the Bill to introduce the Civil Procedure Code which has just been adopted by this Council renders the introduction of the Insolvency Bill necessary, as Chapter XX of the old Code has been omitted in the new Code.

The motion was put to the Council and carried.

Bill to consolidate and amend the law relating to Guardians and Wards in Mysore.

MR. K. S. CHANDRASEKHARA AIYAR.—SIR,—I beg to move for leave being granted to introduce a Bill to consolidate and amend the law relating to Guardians and Wards in Mysore.

The law at present in force on the subject consists of certain Rules issued with the sanction of the Government of India so far back as 1872. These rules, which are applicable also to lunatics, have been found to be defective in several respects, and it is proposed to replace them (so far as they relate to the guardianship of minors) by a Regulation based on the provisions of the Guardians and Wards Act, VIII of 1890, of the Indian Legislature, which is fuller and more comprehensive and up to date.

The case of lunatics will be dealt with by separate legislation, and till then so much of the rules of 1872 as relate to this class of persons will have to be retained.

I do not wish to detain the Council with an account of the changes, verbal and other, that have had to be made in the process of adapting the provisions of the Indian Act to local purposes; a suitable occasion for this will arise when the Bill is actually introduced into the Council. But there is one point to which I may make a passing reference, as it concerns the age of majority under the new law. Under the existing rules this is fixed at 18 years. But the time appears to have come when the age of majority may advantageously be raised from 18 to 21, wherever possible; or at all events in those cases in which Courts have to provide for the guardianship of minors and their estates. The point is an important one which will no doubt receive the careful consideration of the Legislative Council when the Bill comes up for detailed discussion.

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA.—I beg to second the motion. The only point for consideration is about the age of majority. This is an important point which will be considered before the Bill is adopted. As it will receive all the consideration that it deserves, it is unnecessary for me to deal with it at this stage.

The motion was put to the Council and carried.

Bill further to amend the Mysore Chief Court Regulation, I of 1884.

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA.—SIR,—In Section 3 of Regulation I of 1884 relating to the Chief Court of Mysore, "Full Bench" is defined as a Bench consisting of all the Judges of the Chief Court. Lately, when it was found expedient to appoint a fourth Judge as a temporary measure, some difficulty was experienced in hearing cases before a Full Bench, as it was feared that if the Judges were equally divided there would be an impasse as neither the Regulation nor the Code of Civil Procedure could solve the difficulty. The fourth paragraph of Section 575 which requires a decree to be affirmed when there is no majority which concurs in modifying or reversing it would have been sufficient; but, the last paragraph added in 1892 by Regulation VII giving preference to the provisions of the Chief Court Regulation in cases of conflict rendered this nugatory.

The difficulty, however, did not actually occur, as three Judges happened to concur, in the case which gave rise to the proposal of the Chief Court before us. At present there are only three Judges and the Government of His Highness the Maharaja has no present intention of adding to the number. Though the immediate necessity has thus passed away, still as some Courts which have a much larger number of Judges are satisfied with three as the number required to constitute a Full Bench, it is just as well that we should so alter the definition as to make this number sufficient. If the number of Judges remains as at present, there is no harm done; whereas if, in any future contingency, the number is increased either temporarily or permanently, we shall have a provision which would prevent the recurrence of the difficulty described.

I therefore take the liberty of moving that this Bill which consists of but one section to amend the Mysore Chief Court Regulation be read in Council.

MR. S. NARAYANA RAO seconded the motion.

The motion was carried and the Bill was then read by the Secretary.

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA then moved that the above Bill be not referred to a Select Committee and that the ordinary rules of business be suspended so as to permit of the Bill being considered and passed by the Council.

MR. S. NARAYANA RAO seconded the motion which was put to the Council and carried.

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA thereupon moved that the Bill be considered and passed by the Council. This was seconded by Mr. S. Narayana Rao.

The Bill was then discussed and passed by the Council.

Bill to recognize the representative character of the Administrator-General of Madras.

In moving that the above Bill be read in Council, Mr. Chandrasekhara Aiyar explained briefly, for the information of the members newly appointed, the reasons for the introduction thereof and observed that as the measure did not affect any private right adversely, and would not involve any loss of revenue to the State and as it was of a purely formal character intended merely to give effect to an understanding already reached as the result of exhaustive discussion, it might be considered and passed by the Council without a reference to a Select Committee.

The motion was seconded by Mr. Nagappa. The Bill was then read by the Secretary and considered by the Council.

After some discussion as to the effect of a competition between a person who has already taken out a probate or letters of administration in Mysore and the Administrator-General who intervenes later, Mr. Chandrasekhara Aiyar said:—

"As the result of the discussion we have had and on further consideration, I think it is advisable to consider the matter in detail in a Select Committee; and I therefore withdraw the motion just made and beg to move, instead, that the Bill be referred to a Select Committee consisting of Messrs. H. V. Nanjundayya, Rajamantrapravina C. Srinivasiengar, S. Narayana Rao, B. Nagappa and myself."

The motion was seconded by Mr. Syed Amir Hassan, was then put to the Council and carried.

As a result of the above, the motion for considering and passing the Bill was withdrawn.

Bill to provide for the regulation of the possession and sale of all poisons in certain local areas, and the importation, possession and sale of white arsenic generally in Mysore.

MR. K. P. PUTTANNA CHETTY.—SIR,—In presenting the report of the Select Committee on the Poisons Bill, I beg leave to make a few remarks. The Bill has undergone very little change at the hands of the Committee, and continues to be—what it originally was—an adaptation of the British Indian Act on the same subject. As I remarked in my opening speech, the only departure we have thought fit to make is in clause 10, sub-clause (2), of the Bill whereby the transactions of Medical and Veterinary practitioners and of Chemists and Druggists in poisonous drugs were sought to be brought under some sort of control. I need not repeat here the reasons for this departure. It is enough to remark that the Select Committee have, after due consideration, decided to retain this provision though they have slightly altered it so as to make its scope more definite and precise. It will be remembered that in the Bill as originally drafted all transactions of Medical and Veterinary practitioners and of Chemists and Druggists in poisonous drugs were sought to be regulated. It was brought to our notice that the word "transactions" was rather too wide and that for all practical purposes it would be quite sufficient to bring only the sales of poisonous drugs within the operation of clause 10, sub-clause (2). The Select Committee accepted this view and have accordingly slightly altered the language of this sub-clause.

I understand that it is usual for Medical and Veterinary practitioners to keep in their consulting room and carry in their "Medical Bags" small quantities of poisonous drugs for occasional use in the treatment of their patients. I may state here that the Bill does not make such possession illegal nor even does it seek to regulate or control such possession. These practitioners will bring themselves under the provisions of the Bill only if they should regularly sell such drugs to the outside public. It will thus be seen that we have safeguarded, as far as possible, the freedom now enjoyed by bonâ fide Medical and Veterinary practitioners. I may add that in this view Colonel Smyth, the Senior Surgeon and Sanitary Commissioner, entirely concurs. The other amendments made in the Bill are either verbal or consequential.

I now move that the report and the Bill as amended may be taken into consideration by the Council.

MR. S. NARAYANA RAO seconded the motion.

The report of the Select Committee and the Bill as amended by them were then discussed by the Council; and as a result of the discussion on the amendment made by the Committee in clause 10 (2), the Council resolved to take up the Bill for further consideration at a subsequent meeting.

The Council then adjourned.

T. ANANDA ROW,
President.

II. The Officers mentioned below shall be competent to sanction loans not exceeding the sums specified against them:—

	Rs.
Amildars (including Deputy Amildars)	250
Sub-Divisional Assistant Commissioners	500
Deputy Commissioners	1,000
Revenue Commissioner	2,500

Explanation.—An officer is not precluded by this rule from granting several loans to the same individual, although the aggregate amount thereof may exceed the maximum prescribed. Such loans shall, however, be for distinct purposes and be covered by separate and independent security.

Rate of interest.

III. The rate of interest charged shall be 5 per cent per annum, except on loans granted for the relief of distress. In the latter case interest shall be charged at 3 per cent which may be remitted by the Deputy Commissioner at his discretion, in case of borrowers who are known to be poor.

The Government may, if they see fit, grant loans in special cases at reduced interest or without interest.

IV. Interest shall accrue from the date of disbursement of the loan. If the loan is disbursed in instalments, interest on each instalment shall run from the date of the disbursement of such instalment.

Period allowed for repayment and mode of recovery of loan.

V. Loans shall be repayable by fixed annual payments discharging both principal and interest, calculated according to the table appended to these rules.

Simple interest shall be charged on the loan, or if it is disbursed in instalments, on these instalments, up to the date one year previous to the date fixed for commencement of repayment; and the total amount comprising the loan and such interest shall be recovered by annuities as calculated from the said table.

The time allowed for repayment of the loans and the amount of instalments shall be fixed by the Deputy Commissioner (or other officer granting the loan) with reference to the circumstances of the borrower and the object of the loan, regard being had to the probable durability of the works proposed to be constructed, the nature of the appliances proposed to be set up, and the value or sufficiency of the security tendered, but so as not to exceed the maximum limits specified below:—

(A) In the case of loans under the Land Improvement Loans Regulation—
(i) for the construction or repair of wells	30 years.
(ii) for other purposes—
if the loan does not exceed Rs. 500	10 ,,
if the loan exceeds Rs. 500 but does not exceed Rs. 1,000.	15 ,,
if the loan exceeds Rs. 1,000	20 ,,
(B) For loans under Section 194 of the Land Revenue Code—
(i) for the purchase of seed grains	1 ,,
(ii) for the relief of distress and for the purchase of agricultural implements or machinery	3 ,,
(iii) for any other purpose	10 ,,

The time for repayment specified above shall count from the date of the payment of the loan, or where the loan is paid by instalments, from the date of payment of the last instalment and shall be liable to revision under Rules XIII and XXXII.

Provided that nothing in this rule shall be taken to preclude a borrower from discharging the loan at an earlier period or from paying a larger amount than the annual instalment. The excess so paid shall be credited in reduction of principal, and the number of future payments shall, if necessary, be decreased, but no reduction in the amount of the instalments fixed under paragraph 2 of this rule shall on this account be allowed.

VI. The date for repayment of each instalment should be fixed so as to coincide with the date of one of the land revenue khists of the taluk. But the date for the repayment of the first instalment shall be so fixed as to avoid the exaction of the same before the date when by the exercise of due diligence the profits of the improvement might be expected to cover the repayment; and it shall not be demanded within less than twelve months and shall not be put off for more than two years and a half from the date of disbursement of the loan, or if the loan is disbursed in instalments, from the date of disbursement of the last instalment.

If in any special case the sanctioning authority considers that the work will not begin to yield a return in two years and a half, a longer interval not exceeding five years may be allowed. In the case of loans granted by Amildars (including Deputy Amildars) and Assistant Commissioners the sanction of the Deputy Commissioner shall be obtained for such extension.

In any case the amount of the annual instalment shall be fixed so as to provide for the repayment of the whole loan with interest within the maximum period from the date of disbursement of the last instalment of the loan shown in Rule V.

Postponement of Repayment and Remissions.

Suspension of repayment.

VII. On proof of failure of the crops of the borrower from causes beyond his control to such an extent as to render the payment of any instalment unduly burdensome to him or in case of other exceptional calamity the repayment of this and all the subsequent instalments may, notwithstanding anything contained in Rules V and VI, be suspended for the period of one instalment.

In cases of loans granted by Amildars (including Deputy Amildars) and Assistant Commissioners or by himself, the Deputy Commissioner may, at his own instance, or, on the recommendation of the subordinate officers, order such suspension in anticipation of sanction. But he shall report all such cases to the Revenue Commissioner who will pass such orders thereon as he may deem proper. All other cases shall be submitted for orders to the Revenue Commissioner, who shall be competent to pass such orders thereon as he may deem proper.

Simple interest at five per cent shall be charged on all suspended instalments for the periods of such suspension.

Remissions.

VIII. The risk of the failure of an improvement should be borne by the borrowers and their sureties and the repayment of a loan granted under these rules shall not be remitted except as hereinafter provided.

IX. When in the case of a loan under the Land Improvement Loans Regulation, the work fails from causes beyond the borrower's control and when the recovery of the loan in full would occasion serious hardship to the borrower, the Revenue Commissioner shall be competent to sanction the remission of the outstanding instalments or a part of them if the amount involved does not exceed Rs. 100, any remission above this limit being subject to the orders of Government.

X. On every instalment which is not paid before the close of the revenue year in which payment falls due, interest at 6¼ per cent will be charged from the date on which payment ought to have been made. In calculating interest under this rule, a broken period of a month shall count as half a month or one month according as it is less or not less than fifteen days and a fraction of a rupee as half a rupee or one rupee according as it is less or not less than 8 annas.

XI. Repayment may be made either at the Treasury of the taluk in which the land to be improved is situated or the loan is to be utilised, or to the Village Officers if the demand have been included in the borrower's khate.

The Deputy Commissioner may, if he sees fit, also authorise repayment at any other Government Treasury within the district. When repayments at any Treasury other than that of the taluk in which the land to be improved is situated or the loan is to be utilised are made, the remittance should be accompanied by a memorandum giving full particulars of the amount due, the number and date of the loan order and the provision (whether the Land Improvement Loans Regulation or Section 194 of the Land Revenue Code) under which the loan was taken.

XX. Applications from mortgagees, though in possession, for loans for the improvement of land shall not be complied with.

XXI. When the applicant for a loan for the improvement of land is a tenant claiming to possess an interest, alleged to be transferable, in the land to be improved, and proposes to furnish such interest as security for the loan or any other adequate security, the Deputy Commissioner or other officer granting the loan shall serve a special notice of the application in Form No. 3 hereto annexed or in some similar form, on the landlord personally; or if service on him personally cannot be effected the notice shall be addressed to him by post and a copy of it shall also be affixed to some conspicuous part of his usual residence and to some conspicuous place in the office of the Deputy Commissioner or other officer as aforesaid; or if he does not reside in the District in which the application is made, or if his residence is not known, the notice shall be served on the person who acts as his local agent in respect of the said land. A copy of the notice shall also be affixed on the land and at the village chavadi.

XXII. No such notice shall be deemed to have been served, unless the service is acknowledged by the landlord or his agent, or the fact of its having been duly made in any manner specified above is established to the satisfaction of the Deputy Commissioner or other officer granting the loan. In any case in which the ownership of the land vests in more than one person, and any share-holder therein, or other person, acts as manager on behalf of the share-holders, service on the manager shall be deemed to be service on each of the share-holders.

XXIII. Every such notice shall specify the sum applied for, the nature of the improvement to be made, and the nature of the security proposed for the loan, and shall inform the landlord that, if he desires to raise any objections to the grant of the loan, he must, within one month after service of notice, signify them in writing to the Deputy Commissioner or other officer granting the loan.

If the landlord or his local agent or manager does not signify his objections, or if the Deputy Commissioner or other officer granting the loan, after considering such objections, is of opinion that the applicant has a transferable interest in the land specified in his application and that the value of such interest, either singly or jointly with other security furnished by him, is sufficient for the loan, he may either sanction it or forward the records of the case for the sanction of the higher authority competent to dispose of the application.

If the applicant has no such transferable interest and there is no common understanding as to whether the tenant or the landlord is to have the right of making the improvement, the loan shall be refused unless the landlord consents to the grant thereof.

XXIV. When the work to be undertaken is one requiring professional skill, the applicant may be required to submit to the officer making the local enquiry an accurate plan, specification and estimate for the work. If the applicant is unable to furnish such plan, estimate or specification, the Deputy Commissioner may cause them to be prepared on behalf of the applicant, after requiring him to deposit such sum of money as may be sufficient to cover the cost, or, if he thinks fit, calling upon him to give security for the repayment of the same. In special cases it shall be at the discretion of the Deputy Commissioner to remit such cost.

XXV. When the proposed loan exceeds Rs. 500, the Deputy Commissioner shall obtain from the Executive Engineer his opinion as to the feasibility, probable cost and merits generally, from a professional point of view, of the proposed work; in any other case, it shall be competent to the officer dealing with the application to call for similar professional opinion, should necessity appear.

Issue of loan order.

XXVI. If, after local enquiry and such further investigation as may be deemed necessary, the Deputy Commissioner, or other officer granting the loan, is satisfied that the loan may be granted, he shall record a decision to the effect that the loan asked for, or a less sum, may be given and shall at once issue an order granting the loan. In case of loans exceeding Rs. 1,000, the loan order will be issued by the Deputy Commissioner after receipt of the sanction of the Revenue Commissioner or the Government as the case may be under Rule II.

XXVII. An order granting a loan shall be in Form No. 8 hereto annexed, and shall be signed by the applicant in token that he understands and agrees to the conditions contained therein. The security bond to be taken when personal security, or collateral security consisting of land or other immovable property is offered by borrowers or sureties shall be in one or other of Forms Nos. 9*a*, 9*b*, 10*a*, and 10*b*, hereto annexed, or in some similar form.

An order rejecting an application for a loan shall be intimated to the applicant by a notice in Form No. 5 hereto annexed or in some similar form.

Disbursement of loans.

XXVIII. In the case of loans for the relief of distress, disbursements shall be made monthly or once every two months. In the case of other loans, the disbursement shall ordinarily be made in two instalments; provided that if the amount of such loan does not exceed Rs. 100, it may, at the discretion of the sanctioning authority, be disbursed in one sum. When an order granting a loan has been issued, every reasonable facility shall be given to the recipient to obtain the money promptly. Officers empowered to grant loans shall endeavour to disburse any sums payable to borrowers during their tours also, after satisfying themselves as to the identity of the persons to whom they disburse the money and that the sums are payable on account of loans duly sanctioned by themselves or by some other officer authorised to sanction such loans, and whether the sums are payable on account of the first or subsequent instalments duly sanctioned.

XXIX. Non-official agency may also be employed, wherever it is procurable, to aid in disbursing money payable on account of loans duly sanctioned.

Summary Grant of Loans.

XXX. Notwithstanding anything contained in Rules XII, XIV and XV, Assistant Commissioners may, while they are on tour and specially in times of scarcity or distress, grant small loans, not exceeding Rs. 50 each, under Section 194 of the Land Revenue Code, for urgent purposes, such as purchase of seed, fodder, ploughing cattle, or agricultural implements, on the application of cultivators jointly or severally, after making a summary enquiry on the spot as to the sufficiency of the security offered. If they are satisfied that the security is sufficient, the amounts payable may be disbursed forthwith on obtaining the necessary bonds of security and receipts of acknowledgment from the borrowers.

Inspection of Works.

XXXI. The works and any accounts kept of the expenditure incurred on them shall be at all times open to the inspection of the Deputy Commissioner or other person authorized by him in that behalf. In the case of loans exceeding Rs. 5,000, the accounts shall be kept by the borrower in the form that the Deputy Commissioner may prescribe.

XXXII. The Deputy Commissioner shall make necessary provision for ensuring that loans granted under these rules are duly applied to the purposes for which they are borrowed and for proper inspection of the works in the course of their construction. If it should be found that the loan was not used for the purposes for which it was borrowed the Deputy Commissioner or other officer granting the loan may proceed to recover the loan under Rule XIII.

All works for which loans are disbursed by instalments shall be inspected and reported upon before each instalment subsequent to the first is paid. If the inspection is made by an officer empowered to sanction the payment of the further instalment, he should record the result of his inspection and if satisfied that a further instalment should be paid, he should, if practicable, disburse the amount forthwith as provided in Rule XXVIII.

All works shall be inspected and reported on as soon as possible after the date fixed for their completion in the order granting the loan. If it should be found that the work has not been carried out in substantial conformity with the proposals made, the officer granting the loan may either require immediate repayment of the whole amount advanced with interest at 5 per cent and costs, if any, or alter the instalment fixed under Rule V, so as to ensure repayment of the loan within the period for which the work is likely to last. In such cases the original loan order shall be cancelled and a fresh order issued, the former being recovered from the borrower, if possible.

Registers and Accounts.

XXXIII. Every sanctioning officer shall keep a register of applications received and disposed of by him in Form No. 2 hereto annexed.

XXXIV. Every Amildar (including Deputy Amildar) shall keep a register of loans and repayments relating to his taluk in Form No. 11 hereto annexed and such other accounts and statements as may, from time to time, be prescribed by Government. A duplicate of this register shall also be maintained in the office of the Assistant Commissioner in charge of the taluk and in that of the Deputy Commissioner.

Loans for Improvement of a special nature.

XXXV. The Government may, in the case of improvement of a specified kind or kinds, pass special rules for the grant of loans for them, and except to the extent expressly provided for by such special rules, these rules shall apply to the grant and recovery of all such loans.

By Order,

The SECRETARY reported to the Council that the Mysore Police Bill and the Bill to amend the Mysore Registration Regulation, I of 1903, received the assent of His Highness the Maharaja on the the 23rd and 26th day of December 1908, respectively.

Bill further to amend the Mysore Chief Court Regulation, 1884.

MR. T. ANANDA RAO moved for leave to introduce the Bill, and in doing so, said:—Sir, I beg leave of the Council to introduce a Bill for a small amendment in the Mysore Chief Court Regulation. In section 4 of the Regulation, as it now stands, it is declared that the Chief Court of Mysore shall consist of three or more Judges. In section 3, a "Full Bench" is defined as meaning a Bench consisting of all the Judges. In section 15, clause (3), it is stated that the decision of a majority comprising the full Bench shall be the decision of the Chief Court. These provisions work well enough when the Chief Court consists of an odd number of Judges. But a difficulty arises when, as now, it may consist of an even number of Judges—at present the number is four. If, in this circumstance, the Judges of a full Bench are equally divided in opinion in any case before them, there is nothing in the Regulation to show which opinion the decision shall follow. It is proposed to meet this difficulty by enacting that a full Bench shall consist, not necessarily of all the Judges of the Chief Court, but of not less than three of them. I move that leave be granted to me to introduce a Bill to this effect.

MR. M. C. RANGIENGAR seconded the motion. The motion was put to the Council and carried.

Bill further to amend the Mysore Land Revenue Code, Regulation IV of 1888.

MR. K. S. CHANDRASEKHARA AIYAR, moved for leave to introduce the Bill and in doing so, said:—Sir, I beg leave to introduce a Bill for further amending the Mysore Land Revenue Code, 1888.

The Bill is a short one. It consists of a single clause which directs the insertion in the Code of a new section 210 A, which empowers Government to withdraw any appeal or class of appeals from the file of the Revenue Commissioner and dispose of the same itself or retransfer any such appeal when necessary to the Revenue Commissioner.

It will be remembered that when the Land Revenue Code was amended in 1906, the Deputy Commissioners of Districts were declared to be subordinate to Revenue Commissioner, who was therefore under section 210, the authority to whom all appeals from their orders would lie. The appellate orders of the Revenue Commissioner were at the same time declared to be final except when a question of law or usage having the force of law was involved.

Provision was not however made at the time for withdrawing any appeal from the file of the Revenue Commissioner, should Government see occasion to do so. Such a power to withdraw cases from the files of subordinate courts is one that the supreme Courts both in British India and Mysore and even all District Courts, possess under the new Code of Civil Procedure. A similar power on the part of Government in regard to Revenue appeals is obviously a desirable addition to the ordinary revenue procedure. It is also very urgently required just now in order that the Revenue Commissioner, whose revenue work is heavy, may have sufficient relief from his ordinary duties to be able to devote adequate time and attention to his famine work, which is on the increase.

Appeals withdrawn under the new section will of course be heard and disposed of by a Committee of Council, and the slight amendment of the Council Rules necessitated will be separately notified in due course.

I now ask that leave to introduce the Bill may be given.

MR. SYED AMIR HASSAN seconded the above motion. The motion was put to the Council and carried.

THE PRESIDENT.—The next item on the agenda is a motion by MR. K. S. CHANDRASEKHARA AIYAR, that the rules of business of the Council be suspended so as to permit of the above Bill being read and taken into consideration immediately and passed by the Council.

MR. K. S. CHANDRASEKHARA AIYAR.—Sir, I have already explained the urgency of the measure, and in the circumstances, I beg to move that the rules of business of the Legislative Council may be suspended so as to permit of the Bill being read and taken into consideration immediately, and passed by the Council.

MR. T. ANANDA RAO seconded the motion. The motion was put to the Council and carried unanimously.

The Bill was then read by the mover, at the close of which MR. M. C. RANGIENGAR enquired if, in cases withdrawn by Government from the file of the Revenue Commissioner, the Government would go into questions of fact, as would be done by the Revenue Commissioner, if those cases were tried by him. He added that, as under Section 210 of the Land Revenue Code, as amended by Regulation, VI of 1906, appeals lay to Government only on points of law or usage having the force of law, the point might be made clear before the Bill was taken into consideration by the Council.

In reply, MR. CHANDRASEKHARA AIYAR observed that the Government was prevented from going into questions of fact only in appeals against the decisions of the Revenue Commissioner, but that in cases withdrawn from his file, the Government had the same powers which the Revenue Commissioner would have had if he had to dispose of them.

MR. K. S. CHANDRASEKHARA AIYAR then moved that the Bill be taken into consideration and passed by the Council.

MR. K. P. PUTTANNA CHETTY seconded the motion.

The motion was put to the Council and carried.

The Bill was then finally considered by the Council and passed.

The Council then adjourned.

V. P. MADHAVA RAO,
President.

Letters Nos. 2054, 2055 and 2056, dated the 13th October 1908, from the Secretary, Indian Railway Conference Association.

RESOLUTION.—The occurrence of an accident brought to notice an apparent inconsistency between rule 44, sub-rule (c), Chapter II, and rules 110 and 111, sub-rule (a), Chapter V, of Part I of the General Rules for working open lines of railway promulgated with Railway Board's Circular No. R. T. 89-A—5., dated the 8th September 1906, and a revision of rules 110 and 111, sub-rule (a), was, therefore, considered necessary.

2. Rule 12, sub-rule (4) of the General rules makes it incumbent on a Railway Administration to fix a starting signal, where no advanced starting signal is provided, outside all connections on the line to which it refers. It was represented that under certain circumstances it was desirable to permit of the starter, where no advanced starter was provided, being fixed inside connections, and an alteration of the rule was accordingly suggested.

3. It was further represented that the amplification of rule 22 of the General Rules was necessary with a view to distinguishing semaphore signals temporarily out of use, from newly erected semaphore signals intended to be brought into use later.

4. The suggested amendments of the General Rules mentioned were accordingly referred to the India Railway Conference Association for consideration. The recommendations of the Association have now been received and considered by the Railway Board and have been approved by them.

5. In exercise, therefore, of the powers conferred by the notification of the Government of India in the Department of Commerce and Industry, No. 801, dated the 24th March 1905 read in the preamble above, the Railway Board sanction, under Section 47, Sub-sections (1) and (4) of the Indian Railways Act, 1890 (IX of 1890), as in force in British India or as locally applied, the adoption, by the administrations of all lines of railway administered by the Government, of the amendments specified in the annexure hereto in the General Rules for working open lines of railway, which were promulgated with Railway Board's Circular No. R. T. 89-A—5, dated the 8th September 1906.

6. The Railway Board also desire that the said amendments may be brought to the notice of the administrations of the several railways not administered by the Government and which are under the control of the local Government—your control, and that the Agents and Managers of those railways may be invited to submit formal applications for the adoption of the said amendments. They also desire that the Agents and Managers of other lines will submit similar applications.

ORDER.—Ordered that this circular, with the accompanying amendments, be published under a notification in Part I of the Gazette of India, as required by Section 47, sub-section (3), of the Indian Railways Act, 1890 (IX of 1890), and that a copy thereof be kept open for inspection at railway stations as directed by sub-section (6) of the same section, also that a copy of this circular and of its enclosure be communicated to the Local Governments, Administrations and the Officers noted on the margin, for information.

GENERAL AND REVENUE.

Circular Order No. Fl. 7215-55—S. & A. 484-08-1, dated 7th May 1909.

To—The Deputy Commissioners of Districts and other Heads of Departments and Heads of Offices.

From the list of pending pension cases for several quarters past, the Government of His Highness the Maharaja observe that the various Government orders* pointing out the necessity of early disposal of pension cases by officers through whom such cases have to pass, have not produced the desired effect. The number of petitions received in the Comptroller's office from retired officials complaining of the long delay in the settlement of their pension claims, points to the same conclusion.

*Progs. No. 1391-50—P. & A. 1216, dated the 18th March 1903.
" " P. & A. 196-235, dated the 11th August 1903.
" " Fl. 7964-8003—S. & A. 662-04-6, dated the 22nd May 1905.
" " Fl. 4684-728—S. & A. 278-06-1, dated the 20th December 1906.
" " Fl. 2354-94, dated the 21st November 1908.
" " Fl. 6548-88, dated the 10th April 1909.

2. The Government of His Highness the Maharaja consider this state of affairs to be exceedingly unsatisfactory and they desire to state that in future the Heads of Offices and the Heads of Departments will be held personally responsible for avoidable delays in this connection. With a view to the speedy disposal of pension applications, the following instructions are now repeated :—

(1) The chief cause for the delay in the settlement of a pension claim is that due to the time taken in the verification of the services of non-gazetted officers. Special attention should, therefore, be given to the instructions contained in many of the orders referred to in para 1 regarding the correct posting of service registers and keeping them up to date. With the service registers properly maintained, delay may be entirely obviated in most cases by adopting the procedure of preliminary verification provided in Article 489 of the Mysore Service Regulations. It is requested that Heads of Offices will adopt this procedure in future in all cases in which it is possible to do so.

(2) Another cause for delay is that pension cases are not, in most cases, sent with complete details to the Comptroller's office and that they have to be returned once or more for additional information or corrections, etc. Before despatching an application for pension or gratuity to the Comptroller's office, the Head of an office should invariably satisfy himself that the application has been prepared in conformity with the instructions laid down in the Mysore Service Regulations. If this is done, much of the delay that is at present complained of will be avoided.

(3) Pension applications should not be dealt with as papers in the ordinary course, but their disposal as well as subsequent references from the Comptroller's office should be regarded as urgent.

3. If Heads of Offices and controlling officers pay proper attention to the subject, much of the delay and hardship complained of will disappear. But as it is desirable absolutely to put an end to the present intolerable state of things under which retired officials do not get their pensions for months together and in some cases even for years after their retirement, the Government of His Highness are pleased to direct that the Head of every office shall furnish the Comptroller within fifteen days from the date of retirement of any person employed in that office with—

(1) an advance copy of the first and second pages of the pension application prepared with the fullest information that can be obtained regarding service, without delay,

(2) a duplicate last-pay certificate, and

(3) an explanatory memo of doubtful points in connection with the service.

In the case of Heads of Offices subordinate to a departmental controlling officer, the above papers should pass through the Head of the Department, who should pass them on to the Comptroller within one week of their receipt in every case with his remarks, if he has any to offer.

4. The Comptroller will thus have sufficient materials for the grant of an anticipatory pension in every case within one month of the officer's retirement and such pensions should be freely granted. The applicant should also be distinctly told at the time of retirement by the Head of his office that he should apply to the Comptroller for an anticipatory pension if he wants payment of pension at once. The Comptroller cannot at present freely exercise his powers of granting anticipatory pensions though some retired officials apply for it, as the necessary information is not available without reference to the Head of the Office and without considerable delay in many cases.

5. The fact of the grant of an anticipatory pension should in no way delay the submission of the formal application which should be done under standing orders within three months at the most of an officer's retirement.

By Order,
J. S. CHAKRAVARTI,
Financial Secretary.

The following resolutions of the Government of India and their accompaniments are republished for information.

By Order,
W. McHUTCHIN,

No. 1836—1850.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE AND INDUSTRY.

RAILWAYS.

RESOLUTION.

Dated Calcutta, the 27th February 1907.

In the Circular issued by the Public Works Department No. 1-Railway, dated the 9th March 1898, sanction was accorded to the adoption by Railway Administrations, among other risk note forms, of Form B, intended for articles despatched at a "special reduced" or "owner's risk" rate, and of Form H, used as an alternative to Form B, when a sender desired to enter into a general agreement, in place of executing a separate risk note for each consignment.

2. It has from time to time been represented that Railway Administrations should undertake a greater measure of responsibility in the case of consignments carried by them at the "special reduced" or "owner's risk" rates than is entailed by the existing risk note forms; and, as the Government of India agreed with this contention, the question of the revision of the forms was referred to the Indian Railway Conference Association for consideration. The Association, at their meeting in October 1904, revised the form of Risk Notes B and H; and these amended forms, after further revision by the Government of India, have now been finally accepted by all the railways represented by the Association.

3. The Governor-General in Council is pleased to approve, under section 72, sub-section (2), clause (b) of the Indian Railways Act, 1890 (IX of 1890), the use of the Forms B and H appended to this Resolution by Railway Administrations working railways to which the Indian Railways Act, 1890 (IX of 1890), applies, with effect from the 1st April 1907.

4. In the case of railways in Native States to which the provisions of the Indian Railways Act, 1890 (IX of 1890), have been, or may in future be, applied, the Governor-General in Council is also pleased to approve the use of these forms from the 1st April 1907, or from any later date on which the Indian Railways Act may be applied.

ORDERED, that a copy of this Resolution, and of its enclosures be communicated to the Local Governments and Administrations noted in the margin, for information and guidance; to the Government of the Punjab, the Chief Commissioner, Central Provinces, the Agent to the Governor General in Baluchistan, the Accountant General, Public Works Department, and to the Foreign Department, for information; and to the Secretary to the Railway Board, for further necessary action.

The Governments of Madras, Bombay and Burma Public Works Department, Railway Branch.
The Governments of Bengal, the United Provinces, and Eastern Bengal and Assam, Public Works Department.
The Government of Bengal, Marine Department.
The Honourable the Resident at Hyderabad.
The Chief Commissioner of Ajmer-Merwara.

Ordered, also, that the Resolution, and the accompanying forms, be published under a Notification in Part I of the Gazette of India, and that they be reproduced in the Local Government Gazettes.

Notifications by the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore.

GENERAL AND REVENUE.

Circular Order No. Fl. 7215-55—S. & A. 484-08-1, dated 7th May 1909.

To—The Deputy Commissioners of Districts and other Heads of Departments and Heads of Offices.

From the list of pending pension cases for several quarters past, the Government of His Highness the Maharaja observe that the various Government orders* pointing out the necessity of early disposal of pension cases by officers through whom such cases have to pass, have not produced the desired effect. The number of petitions received in the Comptroller's office from retired officials complaining of the long delay in the settlement of their pension claims, points to the same conclusion.

*Progs. No. 1391-50—P. & A. 1216, dated the 18th March 1903.
" " P. & A. 196-235, dated the 11th August 1903.
" " Fl. 7964-8003—S. & A. 662-04-6, dated the 22nd May 1905.
" " Fl. 4684-728—S. & A. 278-06-1, dated the 20th December 1906.
" " Fl. 2354-94, dated the 21st November 1908.
" " Fl. 6548-88, dated the 10th April 1909.

2. The Government of His Highness the Maharaja consider this state of affairs to be exceedingly unsatisfactory and they desire to state that in future the Heads of Offices and the Heads of Departments will be held personally responsible for avoidable delays in this connection. With a view to the speedy disposal of pension applications, the following instructions are now repeated:—

(1) The chief cause for the delay in the settlement of a pension claim is that due to the time taken in the verification of the services of non-gazetted officers. Special attention should, therefore, be given to the instructions contained in many of the orders referred to in para 1 regarding the correct posting of service registers and keeping them up to date. With the service registers properly maintained, delay may be entirely obviated in most cases by adopting the procedure of preliminary verification provided in Article 489 of the Mysore Service Regulations. It is requested that Heads of Offices will adopt this procedure in future in all cases in which it is possible to do so.

(2) Another cause for delay is that pension cases are not, in most cases, sent with complete details to the Comptroller's office and that they have to be returned once or more for additional information or corrections, etc. Before despatching an application for pension or gratuity to the Comptroller's office, the Head of an office should invariably satisfy himself that the application has been prepared in conformity with the instructions laid down in the Mysore Service Regulations. If this is done, much of the delay that is at present complained of will be avoided.

(3) Pension applications should not be dealt with as papers in the ordinary course, but their disposal as well as subsequent references from the Comptroller's office should be regarded as urgent.

3. If Heads of Offices and controlling officers pay proper attention to the subject, much of the delay and hardship complained of will disappear. But as it is desirable absolutely to put an end to the present intolerable state of things under which retired officials do not get their pensions for months together and in some cases even for years after their retirement, the Government of His Highness are pleased to direct that the Head of every office shall furnish the Comptroller within fifteen days from the date of retirement of any person employed in that office with—

(1) an advance copy of the first and second pages of the pension application prepared with the fullest information that can be obtained regarding service, without delay,

(2) a duplicate last-pay certificate, and

(3) an explanatory memo of doubtful points in connection with the service.

In the case of Heads of Offices subordinate to a departmental controlling officer, the above papers should pass through the Head of the Department, who should pass them on to the Comptroller within one week of their receipt in every case with his remarks, if he has any to offer.

4. The Comptroller will thus have sufficient materials for the grant of an anticipatory pension in every case within one month of the officer's retirement and such pensions should be freely granted. The applicant should also be distinctly told at the time of retirement by the Head of his office that he should apply to the Comptroller for an anticipatory pension if he wants payment of pension at once. The Comptroller cannot at present freely exercise his powers of granting anticipatory pensions though some retired officials apply for it, as the necessary information is not available without reference to the Head of the Office and without considerable delay in many cases.

5. The fact of the grant of an anticipatory pension should in no way delay the submission of the formal application which should be done under standing orders within three months at the most of an officer's retirement.

By Order,
J. S. CHAKRAVARTI,
Financial Secretary.

From the list of pending pension cases for several quarters past, the Government of His Highness the Maharaja observe that the various Government orders* pointing out the necessity of early disposal of pension cases by officers through whom such cases have to pass, have not produced the desired effect. The number of petitions received in the Comptroller's office from retired officials complaining of the long delay in the settlement of their pension claims, points to the same conclusion.

2. The Government of His Highness the Maharaja consider this state of affairs to be exceedingly unsatisfactory and they desire to state that in future the Heads of Offices and the Heads of Departments will be held personally responsible for avoidable delays in this connection. With a view to the speedy disposal of pension applications, the following instructions are now repeated:—

(1) The chief cause for the delay in the settlement of a pension claim is that due to the time taken in the verification of the services of non-gazetted officers. Special attention should, therefore, be given to the instructions contained in many of the orders referred to in para 1 regarding the correct posting of service registers and keeping them up to date. With the service registers properly maintained, delay may be entirely obviated in most cases by adopting the procedure of preliminary verification provided in Article 489 of the Mysore Service Regulations. It is requested that Heads of Offices will adopt this procedure in future in all cases in which it is possible to do so.

(2) Another cause for delay is that pension cases are not, in most cases, sent with complete details to the Comptroller's office and that they have to be returned once or more for additional information or corrections, etc. Before despatching an application for pension or gratuity to the Comptroller's office, the Head of an office should invariably satisfy himself that the application has been prepared in conformity with the instructions laid down in the Mysore Service Regulations. If this is done, much of the delay that is at present complained of will be avoided.

(3) Pension applications should not be dealt with as papers in the ordinary course, but their disposal as well as subsequent references from the Comptroller's office should be regarded as urgent.

3. If Heads of Offices and controlling officers pay proper attention to the subject, much of the delay and hardship complained of, will disappear. But as it is desirable absolutely to put an end to the present intolerable state of things, under which retired officials do not get their pensions for months together, and in some cases even for years after their retirement, the Government of His Highness are pleased to direct that the Head of every office shall furnish the Comptroller within fifteen days from the date of retirement of any person employed in that office with—

(1) an advance copy of the first and second pages of the pension application prepared with the fullest information that can be obtained regarding service, without delay,

(2) a duplicate last-pay certificate, and

(3) an explanatory memo of doubtful points in connection with the service.

In the case of Heads of Offices subordinate to a departmental controlling officer, the above papers should pass through the Head of the Department, who should pass them on to the Comptroller within one week of their receipt in every case with his remarks, if he has any to offer.

4. The Comptroller will thus have sufficient materials for the grant of an anticipatory pension in every case within one month of the officer's retirement and such pensions should be freely granted. The applicant should also be distinctly told at the time of retirement by the Head of his office that he should apply to the Comptroller for an anticipatory pension if he wants payment of pension at once. The Comptroller cannot at present freely exercise his powers of granting anticipatory pensions though some retired officials apply for it, as the necessary information is not available without reference to the Head of the Office and without considerable delay in many cases.

5. The fact of the grant of an anticipatory pension should in no way delay the submission of the formal application which should be done under standing orders within three months at the most of an officer's retirement.

By Order,
J. S. CHAKRAVARTI,
Financial Secretary.

The following translation of an order passed by the Governor of German New Guinea, respecting the immigration and introduction of non-indigenous natives into the Protectorate of German New Guinea, is published for general information :—

TRANSLATION.

Order of November 1st, 1908.

In virtue of Section 15 of the Protectorate Law (Reichs-Gesetzblatt, 1900, page 813) and of the Imperial Chancellor's Decree of September 27th, 1903, (Deutsches Kolonialblatt, 1903, page 509), the following is decreed for the Protectorate of German New Guinea.

SECTION 1.

Non-indigenous natives may only immigrate or be introduced into the Protectorate of German New Guinea by the ports that are open to foreign traffic.

Any one who wishes to introduce such natives under a definite labour contract otherwise than by the ports that are open to foreign traffic, must obtain the written permission of the registration authorities (Meldebehörde) of the port of entry.

Ship-masters must present to the registration authorities of the port of entry a list of the non-indigenous natives to be landed there.

SECTION 2.

Every non-indigenous native immigrating into the Protectorate must within three days after landing report himself to the authorities of the port and make a statement for purposes of identification. Thereupon a certificate will be given to him.

The authorities may order a medical inspection.

If a person who is under the obligation to report himself leaves the Protectorate or changes his domicile within the Protectorate from one district to another, he must announce his arrival and departure in the same manner.

SECTION 3.

Whoever in the Protectorate introduces non-indigenous natives under a definite labour contract is bound to deliver to the authorities within three days from the landing a copy of the contract and a list of names in duplicate. If there is no labour contract, one must be drawn up before the authorities of the port of landing.

The obligation of making an announcement to the authorities of the place where the work is carried out takes effect in the same manner on the renewal or prolongation of an existing arrangement or contract for working. The authorities may order the native to appear personally and be medically examined.

The costs of the examination and reception of needy or sick persons into an institution are borne by the employer and not by the official authorities.

The workmen introduced may only be employed after the facts of their having reported themselves and being fit to work have been certified on the second copy of the list of names.

SECTION 4.

The authorities must supervise the arrangements for working and must especially examine the lodging, provisioning, medical attendance and wages of the workmen. The authorities have the right to undertake inspections or to order inspections to be made by suitable experts or by a committee, and to take steps to remove evils. Should the inspection show that the employer is not fulfilling his obligations, he must bear the costs of such inspection.

SECTION 5.

On the authorities' demand the employer is bound on the termination of the labour contract to send the workmen back to the place where they were engaged, or to pay the costs of the return. This obligation is cancelled after the space of one year from the termination of the arrangement.

The employer is obliged to announce to the authorities the termination of the arrangement and the return of the workmen to their home, and he is obliged to give information on demand concerning each workman in his service.

The authorites may order a medical examination of the workmen to be sent home to be made at the cost of the employer.

SECTION 6.

Any workman who after the conclusion of his working arrangement with the employer still remains in the Protectorate, is bound to report himself in accordance with Section 2 to the competent authority for his place of residence.

SECTION 7.

The authorities to whom such reports must be made are the Imperial District Offices and Stations for their Districts.

SECTION 8.

A fee for these declarations is to be paid for each person in accordance with Section 3; it amounts to 10 Marks in the old Protectorate, 20 Marks in the Island Territory and 30 Marks in case the contract lasts longer than two years.

If a labour contract or agreement is renewed or prolonged, the same fees are charged.

SECTION 9.

Infringements of the provisions of this Order are punished by a fine not exceeding 600 Marks or by imprisonment for a period not exceeding three months.

SECTION 10.

This Order comes into force on April 1st, 1909.

The non-indigenous natives already settled in the Protectorate on that day are bound to report themselves in accordance with Section 2, within a space of three months; in accordance with Section 3 the employers must, within the same period, report the names of the workmen in their service on the day when the order comes into force.

SECTION 11.

On the day when this Order comes into force the following will be cancelled.

The Order of the Governor of German New Guinea of February 1st, 1904, concerning the immigration and introduction of Chinese into the Protectorate of German New Guinea with the exception of the Island Territory of the Carolines, Pelew and Mariannes (Deutsches Kolonialblatt, 1904, page 253) and the provisions for carrying out this Order of February 1st, 1904, also the change in the Order regarding the engagement and introduction of coloured workmen of January 20th, 1907. 1. Assessment on lands classed as wet.—On lands classed as wet under whatever source of irrigation, on which the wet crops have in the year Kilaka (1908-09) totally failed or the outturn is not more than 25 per cent of a normal crop (i. e., not more than 4 annas out of a normal 16 annas), one-half of the assessment shall be remitted and the other half shall be collected.

2. For occupied waste within the tract the same rate of remission shall be given as for land on which the crops totally failed. But no remission is to be given on "mamool waste," that is to say, on occupied land which is not cultivated regularly in a normal year and which it may be presumed would have been left uncultivated even if the season had been normal.

3. Where dry crops may have been raised with or without the aid of Sirkar water on land classed as wet, the same concession as in para 1 shall be granted, but the average rate of dry assessment prevailing in the village shall also be levied on the land on which dry crop has been raised. The plots need not be measured, but an entire survey number or a recognised share of a survey number shall be treated as a whole. If the dry crop entirely failed, this additional dry crop charge need not be imposed.

4. Assessment on lands classed as dry.—On lands classed as dry where the dry crops have totally failed, or their outturn was not more than 25 per cent of a normal crop (i. e., not more than 4 annas out of a normal 16 annas), one-half of the assessment may be suspended and the other half collected.

5. Lands classed as dry on which a water rate is separately levied for the use of Sirkar water without its being incorporated with the wet assessment, shall receive the same treatment as lands classed and assessed as wet.

6. Assessment on lands classed as garden.—Where lands classed as Bagayet are usually cultivated with wet crops, the same treatment shall be accorded as above prescribed for lands classed as wet.

7. Where there has been a great loss of arecanut or cocoanut trees or of their produce, the Deputy Commissioner, for reasons to be recorded, may suspend the collection of one-half of the assessment.

8. Local cesses.—It should be distinctly understood that remissions of Local Cesses do not follow on remissions of assessment. They should invariably be collected on the entire assessment as usual (including the portion of the assessment that is remitted), a postponement being alone permissible in special cases in which the Deputy Commissioner may consider this concession necessary.

9. Minor inam lands.—The foregoing orders in regard to suspensions and remissions of revenue are applicable also to minor inam lands charged with full assessment or with a quit-rent or jodi equal to or more than the full survey valuation.

10. Whole inam villages.—They are applicable also to lands in whole Inam villages under Government management.

11. General remarks.—Jamabandi officers should be careful to see that all remissions granted under these rules are well notified and entered in the Raiyats' Patta Books.

12. Remissions are to be granted for villages and homogeneous tracts taken as a whole. The concession (whether remission or suspension of revenue) should be regulated with regard to the outturn of the crop and not with reference to the circumstances of the raiyat owning the land.

13. In individual cases the Deputy Commissioner or Sub-Division Officer will be justified in refusing remission where the moiety to be collected is not punctually paid in due time.

14. The foregoing instructions will have force only in the following areas :—

CAMP NO. 20-30, DATED CAMP MYSORE, 30TH MAY 1909.

ORDER THEREON.—In consideration of the exceptional conditions of the year Kilaka (1908-09), the following orders in regard to remissions and suspensions of the Land Revenue for that year are issued for information and guidance of all concerned in lieu of those contained in the Government Proceedings above cited :—

1. Assessment on lands classed as wet.—On lands classed as wet under whatever source of irrigation, on which the wet crops have in the year Kilaka (1908-09) totally failed or the outturn is not more than 25 per cent of a normal crop (i. e., not more than 4 annas out of a normal 16 annas), one-half of the assessment shall be remitted and the other half shall be collected.

2. For occupied waste within the tract the same rate of remission shall be given as for land on which the crops totally failed. But no remission is to be given on "mamool waste," that is to say, on occupied land which is not cultivated regularly in a normal year and which it may be presumed would have been left uncultivated even if the season had been normal.

3. Where dry crops may have been raised with or without the aid of Sirkar water on land classed as wet, the same concession as in para 1 shall be granted, but the average rate of dry assessment prevailing in the village shall also be levied on the land on which dry crop has been raised. The plots need not be measured, but an entire survey number or a recognised share of a survey number shall be treated as a whole. If the dry crop entirely failed, this additional dry crop charge need not be imposed.

4. Assessment on lands classed as dry.—On lands classed as dry where the dry crops have totally failed, or their outturn was not more than 25 per cent of a normal crop (i. e., not more than 4 annas out of a normal 16 annas), one-half of the assessment may be suspended and the other half collected.

5. Lands classed as dry on which a water rate is separately levied for the use of Sirkar water without its being incorporated with the wet assessment, shall receive the same treatment as lands classed and assessed as wet.

6. Assessment on lands classed as garden.—Where lands classed as Bagayet are usually cultivated with wet crops, the same treatment shall be accorded as above prescribed for lands classed as wet.

7. Where there has been a great loss of arecanut or cocoanut trees or of their produce, the Deputy Commissioner, for reasons to be recorded, may suspend the collection of one-half of the assessment.

8. Local cesses.—It should be distinctly understood that remissions of Local Cesses do not follow on remissions of assessment. They should invariably be collected on the entire assessment as usual (including the portion of the assessment that is remitted), a postponement being alone permissible in special cases in which the Deputy Commissioner may consider this concession necessary.

9. Minor inam lands.—The foregoing orders in regard to suspensions and remissions of revenue are applicable also to minor inam lands charged with full assessment or with a quit-rent or jodi equal to or more than the full survey valuation.

10. Whole inam villages.—They are applicable also to lands in whole Inam villages under Government management.

11. General remarks.—Jamabandi officers should be careful to see that all remissions granted under these rules are well notified and entered in the Raiyats' Patta Books.

12. Remissions are to be granted for villages and homogeneous tracts taken as a whole. The concession (whether remission or suspension of revenue) should be regulated with regard to the outturn of the crop and not with reference to the circumstances of the raiyat owning the land.

13. In individual cases the Deputy Commissioner or Sub-Division Officer will be justified in refusing remission where the moiety to be collected is not punctually paid in due time.

14. The foregoing instructions will have force only in the following areas :—

CAMP NO. 20-30, DATED CAMP MYSORE, 30TH MAY 1909.

ORDER THEREON.—In consideration of the exceptional conditions of the year Kilaka (1908-09), the following orders in regard to remissions and suspensions of the Land Revenue for that year are issued for information and guidance of all concerned in lieu of those contained in the Government Proceedings above cited :—

1. Assessment on lands classed as wet.—On lands classed as wet under whatever source of irrigation, on which the wet crops have in the year Kilaka (1908-09) totally failed or the outturn is not more than 25 per cent of a normal crop (i. e., not more than 4 annas out of a normal 16 annas), one-half of the assessment shall be remitted and the other half shall be collected.

2. For occupied waste within the tract the same rate of remission shall be given as for land on which the crops totally failed. But no remission is to be given on "mamool waste," that is to say, on occupied land which is not cultivated regularly in a normal year and which it may be presumed would have been left uncultivated even if the season had been normal.

3. Where dry crops may have been raised with or without the aid of Sirkar water on land classed as wet, the same concession as in para 1 shall be granted, but the average rate of dry assessment prevailing in the village shall also be levied on the land on which dry crop has been raised. The plots need not be measured, but an entire survey number or a recognised share of a survey number shall be treated as a whole. If the dry crop entirely failed, this additional dry crop charge need not be imposed.

4. Assessment on lands classed as dry.—On lands classed as dry where the dry crops have totally failed, or their outturn was not more than 25 per cent of a normal crop (i. e., not more than 4 annas out of a normal 16 annas), one-half of the assessment may be suspended and the other half collected.

5. Lands classed as dry on which a water rate is separately levied for the use of Sirkar water without its being incorporated with the wet assessment, shall receive the same treatment as lands classed and assessed as wet.

6. Assessment on lands classed as garden.—Where lands classed as Bagayet are usually cultivated with wet crops, the same treatment shall be accorded as above prescribed for lands classed as wet.

7. Where there has been a great loss of arecanut or cocoanut trees or of their produce, the Deputy Commissioner, for reasons to be recorded, may suspend the collection of one-half of the assessment.

8. Local cesses.—It should be distinctly understood that remissions of Local Cesses do not follow on remissions of assessment. They should invariably be collected on the entire assessment as usual (including the portion of the assessment that is remitted), a postponement being alone permissible in special cases in which the Deputy Commissioner may consider this concession necessary.

9. Minor inam lands.—The foregoing orders in regard to suspensions and remissions of revenue are applicable also to minor inam lands charged with full assessment or with a quit-rent or jodi equal to or more than the full survey valuation.

10. Whole inam villages.—They are applicable also to lands in whole Inam villages under Government management.

11. General remarks.—Jamabandi officers should be careful to see that all remissions granted under these rules are well notified and entered in the Raiyats' Patta Books.

12. Remissions are to be granted for villages and homogeneous tracts taken as a whole. The concession (whether remission or suspension of revenue) should be regulated with regard to the outturn of the crop and not with reference to the circumstances of the raiyat owning the land.

13. In individual cases the Deputy Commissioner or Sub-Division Officer will be justified in refusing remission where the moiety to be collected is not punctually paid in due time.

14. The foregoing instructions will have force only in the following areas :—

No. R. 10777—Ft. 81-08-6, dated 21*st June* 1909.

In supersession of the rules issued under Notification No. R. 1051—Ft. 135-06-6, dated the 17th August 1908, the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore are pleased to prescribe the following rules for the conduct of prospecting and mining operations in State Forests and such District Forests as may be specially brought within the scope of these rules, and lands under special protection.

Exploring licenses.

1. The holder of an exploring license shall obtain from the District Forest Officer permission to enter upon and explore for minerals in any forest lands within the area to which the license applies.

2. Such permission will ordinarily be freely granted, but will not entitle the licensee to cut or injure any forest growth or to dig or turn up the surface of the land to a greater depth than three feet and the licensee must, before leaving the locality, fill up any excavations which he may have made, to the satisfaction of the District Forest Officer.

3. Should the licensee desire to make trenches or sink pits to a depth greater than three feet he must obtain the sanction of the District Forest Officer in each case and pay compensation at the rate provided hereunder for any forest growth which may be injured or destroyed, and shall undertake to fill up all excavations to the satisfaction of the District Forest Officer.

Prospecting licenses and mining leases.

4. No prospecting license or mining lease shall ordinarily be granted in forest lands except with the sanction of the Conservator of Forests.

Prospecting and mining operations will generally not be permitted in plantations, coupes which have been worked over and in tracts containing specially valuable growth of sandal, teak or other species of trees.

5. Before commencing any prospecting or mining operation in any forest lands, the licensee or lessee or his duly authorized agent or representative shall give notice to the District Forest Officer of his intention so to do, and shall at the same time forward to the District Forest Officer a statement of the area or areas proposed to be operated upon and their dimensions and a sketch map on a suitable scale showing the said area or areas and their relative positions and shall deposit with the District Forest Officer the amount of compensation due on the said area or areas calculated in accordance with Rule 9. Each area to be operated upon, except such as may be required for a railway, tramway, road or footpath, shall be in the form of a rectangle, of which no side shall be less than ten yards long, and shall be defined by cairns of stones. Each area shall be distinguished by a letter of the alphabet in the abovementioned statement and map.

A consolidated statement and a complete map shall be maintained up to date and kept on the prospecting or mining block by the person in charge of the operations.

6. In any prospecting or mining block the total area which may be operated upon or cleared of forest shall not exceed 25 acres except with the permission in writing of the District Forest Officer; and no railway, tramway, road or foot-path shall be made without such permission. Such permission will be granted from time to time in each case for an area not exceeding 25 acres on the application of the licensee or lessee, provided that the additional area is required for the bona fide extension of prospecting or mining operations.

The areas operated upon shall include all those the surfaces of which have been opened up by means of pits, trenches or other excavations or covered with earth, stones, debris, machinery, buildings, etc., or upon which the forest growth has been injured or destroyed or over which any railway, tramway, road or footpath has been made.

7. In the case of all buildings, machinery or other structures erected upon the block and in the case of every place where fire or lights are used at any time or round any working or dwelling place where the District Forest Officer considers it to be necessary for safety, the forest growth shall be cleared for a distance of ten feet round the limits of such structure or place to such extent as the District Forest Officer may require.

8. As soon as possible after the receipt of the statement and map referred to in Rule 5, the District Forest Officer shall prepare a bill for the amount of compensation due at the rates specified hereunder and after crediting the amount deposited under Rule 5 shall adjust, or require the licensee or lessee to adjust any balance as may be necessary. In default of payment the District Forest Officer may, at his discretion, stop all further operations and take steps to recover the amount due as a revenue demand.

In the event of any area not included in the map and statement required by Rule 5 being found to have been operated upon, the District Forest Officer may, at his discretion, stop all further operations and recover compensation for the same at double the rates provided hereunder.

9. The licensee or lessee shall—

(a) Pay a lump sum for the value of forest growth and for damage and disfigurement to the surface on all areas operated upon or cleared at the following rates:—

(1) In State Forests or Reserved lands { High and Pole Forests, Rs. 100 per acre. Other forests, including scrub, Rs. 50 per acre.

(2) In District Forests which have been specially brought within the scope of these rules. { High and Pole Forests, Rs. 50 per acre. Other forests, including scrub, Rs. 25 per acre.

(3) For railways and tramways and for roads on which traction engines are used at the foregoing rates.

(4) For ordinary cart-tracks and foot-paths, at the rate of Rs. 25 per mile.

(b) Undertake not to cut sandalwood except with permission of the Forest Department and on payment of an extra charge to be fixed by the Conservator.

N. B.—The decision of the Conservator of Forests as to whether any particular forest is high, pole or scrub, shall be final.

10. The licensee or lessee shall not fell, girdle or lop any tree outside the area or areas shown and described in the map and statement referred to in Rule 5.

11. Nothing in the foregoing rules shall be taken to exempt the licensee or lessee or his employees from liability in respect of any forest offence punishable under the Mysore Forest Regulation, 1900.

No. R. 10855—L. R. 11-08-28, dated 23*rd June* 1909.

No. R. 10777—Ft. 81-08-6, dated 21*st June* 1909.

In supersession of the rules issued under Notification No. R. 1051—Ft. 135-06-6, dated the 17th August 1908, the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore are pleased to prescribe the following rules for the conduct of prospecting and mining operations in State Forests and such District Forests as may be specially brought within the scope of these rules, and lands under special protection.

Exploring licenses.

1. The holder of an exploring license shall obtain from the District Forest Officer permission to enter upon and explore for minerals in any forest lands within the area to which the license applies.

2. Such permission will ordinarily be freely granted, but will not entitle the licensee to cut or injure any forest growth or to dig or turn up the surface of the land to a greater depth than three feet and the licensee must, before leaving the locality, fill up any excavations which he may have made, to the satisfaction of the District Forest Officer.

3. Should the licensee desire to make trenches or sink pits to a depth greater than three feet he must obtain the sanction of the District Forest Officer in each case and pay compensation at the rate provided hereunder for any forest growth which may be injured or destroyed, and shall undertake to fill up all excavations to the satisfaction of the District Forest Officer.

Prospecting licenses and mining leases.

4. No prospecting license or mining lease shall ordinarily be granted in forest lands except with the sanction of the Conservator of Forests.

Prospecting and mining operations will generally not be permitted in plantations, coupes which have been worked over and in tracts containing specially valuable growth of sandal, teak or other species of trees.

5. Before commencing any prospecting or mining operation in any forest lands, the licensee or lessee or his duly authorized agent or representative shall give notice to the District Forest Officer of his intention so to do, and shall at the same time forward to the District Forest Officer a statement of the area or areas proposed to be operated upon and their dimensions and a sketch map on a suitable scale showing the said area or areas and their relative positions and shall deposit with the District Forest Officer the amount of compensation due on the said area or areas calculated in accordance with Rule 9. Each area to be operated upon, except such as may be required for a railway, tramway, road or foot-path, shall be in the form of a rectangle, of which no side shall be less than ten yards long, and shall be defined by cairns of stones. Each area shall be distinguished by a letter of the alphabet in the abovementioned statement and map.

A consolidated statement and a complete map shall be maintained up to date and kept on the prospecting or mining block by the person in charge of the operations.

6. In any prospecting or mining block the total area which may be operated upon or cleared of forest shall not exceed 25 acres except with the permission in writing of the District Forest Officer; and no railway, tramway, road or foot-path shall be made without such permission. Such permission will be granted from time to time in each case for an area not exceeding 25 acres on the application of the licensee or lessee, provided that the additional area is required for the bona fide extension of prospecting or mining operations.

The areas operated upon shall include all those the surfaces of which have been opened up by means of pits, trenches or other excavations or covered with earth, stones, debris, machinery, buildings, etc., or upon which the forest growth has been injured or destroyed or over which any railway, tramway, road or foot-path has been made.

7. In the case of all buildings, machinery or other structures erected upon the block and in the case of every place where fire or lights are used at any time or round any working or dwelling place where the District Forest Officer considers it to be necessary for safety, the forest growth shall be cleared for a distance of ten feet round the limits of such structure or place to such extent as the District Forest Officer may require.

8. As soon as possible after the receipt of the statement and map referred to in Rule 5, the District Forest Officer shall prepare a bill for the amount of compensation due at the rates specified hereunder and after crediting the amount deposited under Rule 5 shall adjust or require the licensee or lessee to adjust any balance as may be necessary. In default of payment the District Forest Officer may, at his discretion, stop all further operations and take steps to recover the amount due as a revenue demand.

In the event of any area not included in the map and statement required by Rule 5 being found to have been operated upon, the District Forest Officer may, at his discretion, stop all further operations and recover compensation for the same at double the rates provided hereunder.

9. The licensee or lessee shall—

(a) Pay a lump sum for the value of forest growth and for damage and disfigurement to the surface on all areas operated upon or cleared at the following rates :—

(1) In State Forests or Reserved lands	High and Pole Forests, Rs. 100 per acre. Other forests, including scrub, Rs. 50 per acre.
(2) In District Forests which have been specially brought within the scope of these rules.	High and Pole Forests, Rs. 50 per acre. Other forests, including scrub, Rs. 25 per acre.

(3) For railways and tramways and for roads on which traction engines are used at the foregoing rates.

(4) For ordinary cart-tracks and foot-paths, at the rate of Rs. 25 per mile.

(b) Undertake not to cut sandalwood except with permission of the Forest Department and on payment of an extra charge to be fixed by the Conservator.

N. B.—The decision of the Conservator of Forests as to whether any particular forest is high, pole or scrub, shall be final.

10. The licensee or lessee shall not fell, girdle or lop any tree outside the area or areas shown and described in the map and statement referred to in Rule 5.

11. Nothing in the foregoing rules shall be taken to exempt the licensee or lessee or his employees from liability in respect of any forest offence punishable under the Mysore Forest Regulation, 1900.

Such permission will ordinarily be freely granted, but will not entitle the licensee to cut or injure any forest growth or to dig or turn up the surface of the land to a greater depth than three feet and the licensee must, before leaving the locality, fill up any excavations which he may have made, to the satisfaction of the District Forest Officer.

3. Should the licensee desire to make trenches or sink pits to a depth greater than three feet he must obtain the sanction of the District Forest Officer in each case and pay compensation at the rate provided hereunder for any forest growth which may be injured or destroyed, and shall undertake to fill up all excavations to the satisfaction of the District Forest Officer.

Prospecting licenses and mining leases.

4. No prospecting license or mining lease shall ordinarily be granted in forest lands except with the sanction of the Conservator of Forests.

Prospecting and mining operations will generally not be permitted in plantations, coupes which have been worked over and in tracts containing specially valuable growth of sandal, teak or other species of trees.

5. Before commencing any prospecting or mining operation in any forest lands, the licensee or lessee or his duly authorized agent or representative shall give notice to the District Forest Officer of his intention so to do, and shall at the same time forward to the District Forest Officer a statement of the area or areas proposed to be operated upon and their dimensions and a sketch map on a suitable scale showing the said area or areas and their relative positions and shall deposit with the District Forest Officer the amount of compensation due on the said area or areas calculated in accordance with Rule 9. Each area to be operated upon, except such as may be required for a railway, tramway, road or foot-path, shall be in the form of a rectangle, of which no side shall be less than ten yards long, and shall be defined by cairns of stones. Each area shall be distinguished by a letter of the alphabet in the abovementioned statement and map.

A consolidated statement and a complete map shall be maintained up to date and kept on the prospecting or mining block by the person in charge of the operations.

6. In any prospecting or mining block the total area which may be operated upon or cleared of forest shall not exceed 25 acres except with the permission in writing of the District Forest Officer; and no railway, tramway, road or foot-path shall be made without such permission. Such permission will be granted from time to time in each case for an area not exceeding 25 acres on the application of the licensee or lessee, provided that the additional area is required for the bona fide extension of prospecting or mining operations.

The areas operated upon shall include all those the surfaces of which have been opened up by means of pits, trenches or other excavations or covered with earth, stones, debris, machinery, buildings, etc., or upon which the forest growth has been injured or destroyed or over which any railway, tramway, road or foot-path has been made.

7. In the case of all buildings, machinery or other structures erected upon the block and in the case of every place where fire or lights are used at any time or round any working or dwelling place where the District Forest Officer considers it to be necessary for safety, the forest growth shall be cleared for a distance of ten feet round the limits of such structure or place to such extent as the District Forest Officer may require.

8. As soon as possible after the receipt of the statement and map referred to in Rule 5, the District Forest Officer shall prepare a bill for the amount of compensation due at the rates specified hereunder and after crediting the amount deposited under Rule 5 shall adjust or require the licensee or lessee to adjust any balance as may be necessary. In default of payment the District Forest Officer may, at his discretion, stop all further operations and take steps to recover the amount due as a revenue demand.

In the event of any area not included in the map and statement required by Rule 5 being found to have been operated upon, the District Forest Officer may, at his discretion, stop all further operations and recover compensation for the same at double the rates provided hereunder.

9. The licensee or lessee shall—

(a) Pay a lump sum for the value of forest growth and for damage and disfigurement to the surface on all areas operated upon or cleared at the following rates :—

(1) In State Forests or Reserved lands { High and Pole Forests, Rs. 100 per acre. Other forests, including scrub, Rs. 50 per acre.

(2) In District Forests which have been specially brought within the scope of these rules. { High and Pole Forests, Rs. 50 per acre. Other forests, including scrub, Rs. 25 per acre.

(3) For railways and tramways and for roads on which traction engines are used at the foregoing rates.

(4) For ordinary cart-tracks and foot-paths, at the rate of Rs. 25 per mile.

(b) Undertake not to cut sandalwood except with permission of the Forest Department and on payment of an extra charge to be fixed by the Conservator.

N. B.—The decision of the Conservator of Forests as to whether any particular forest is high, pole or scrub, shall be final.

10. The licensee or lessee shall not fell, girdle or lop any tree outside the area or areas shown and described in the map and statement referred to in Rule 5.

11. Nothing in the foregoing rules shall be taken to exempt the licensee or lessee or his employees from liability in respect of any forest offence punishable under the Mysore Forest Regulation, 1900.

RESOLUTION.—In view of the practical difficulty of always arranging for the existence of means of communication between the Guard and every passenger vehicle on a mixed train, owing to the absence of horizontal handrails and foot-boards on many coaches, as well as to the large proportion of unbraked and unpipeu goods vehicles still running on most railways: and considering the fact that the speed of mixed trains is comparatively slow and that these trains stop at every station, the railway Board have decided to make the provision of means of communication between the Guard and every passenger vehicle on a mixed train permissive in certain cases, instead of compulsory, as at present.

2. In exercise, therefore, of the powers conferred by the notification of the Government of India in the Department of Commerce and Industry, No. 801, dated the 24th March 1905, read in the preamble above, the Railway Board sanction, under Section 47, sub-sections (1) and (4), of the Indian Railways Act, 1890 (IX of 1890), as in force in British India or as locally applied, and in supersession of the modification promulgated with Railway Board's resolution No. 2171 R. T., dated the 11th December 1908, and published under their Notification No. 25, dated the 15th January 1909, the adoption, by the administrations of all lines of railway administered by the Government, of the modification specified in the annexure hereto in the General Rules for working open lines of railway, which were promulgated with Railway Board's Circular No. R. T. 89-A—5, dated the 8th September 1906.

3. The Railway Board also desire that the said modification may be brought to the notice of the administrations of the several railways not administered by the Government and which are under $\frac{\text{the control of the Local Government}}{\text{your control}}$ and that the Agents and Managers of those railways may be invited to submit formal applications for the adoption of the said modification. They also desire that the Agents and Managers of other lines will submit similar applications.

64. No passenger train or mixed train shall be despatched from any station unless it be provided with means by which a Guard can communicate with, or get access to, every passenger carriage in the train; or the Guard can be communicated with from every passenger carriage in the train by means of an apparatus provided for this purpose.

Notifications by the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore.

GENERAL AND REVENUE.

No. FL. 1268—G. F. 86-09-1, DATED BANGALORE, 24TH AUGUST 1909.

ORDER.—Under the system hitherto in force, the financial programme of Government for any particular official year was announced by the Dewan in his speech to the Representative Assembly in September or October of that year, i.e., after three or four months of the year had elapsed. A copy of the State Budget was also laid on the table of the Assembly for the information of the Representatives and through them, of the public. The facts connected with the financial administration for any year thus came to the knowledge of the public rather late in the year and information furnished was by that time stale. Under these circumstances the Government have resolved that with effect from the year 1909-10 the State Budget should be published in the official Gazette at the earliest possible date after it is finally passed by His Highness the Maharaja. This procedure, it is hoped, will enable the public and the Representative Assembly to become acquainted with all the details of the financial programme of the year in good time.

2. Accordingly the State Budget for 1909-10 with a brief financial statement explaining its salient features was published in an extraordinary issue of the Mysore Gazette on 6th September 1909.

It then turns westward and runs along the Mysore-Bangalore road forming the northern boundary of Survey Nos. 186, 865 and 185 till it reaches the eastern boundary of Survey No. 198. Then it turns to the north and runs along the eastern boundary of Survey No. 198 and crosses the Mysore-Bangalore road, reaching the southern boundary of Survey No. 188. From there, it takes an easterly direction till it reaches the south-eastern corner of that survey number. Here it turns in a north-easterly direction till it meets the contour line of the Mandya tank at the north-west point of Survey No. 186. It then takes an easterly direction along the boundary line of the contour of Mandya tank and reaches the south-eastern point of the same tank on the edge of the Mysore-Bangalore road. From this place it goes north till it reaches the south-western point of Survey No. 880. Then it runs eastward till it reaches the eastern point of Survey No. 882. It then goes in a north-westerly direction, meets Survey No. 881 and follows the western boundary of that number There it turns to the east and runs along the northern boundary of Survey No. 879 and the contour line of the Mandya tank till it reaches the Kodihalla of the said tank. It then goes eastwards along the southern boundary of Survey Nos. 792 and 84, till it meets the halla at the south-eastern corner of Survey No. 84. RESOLUTION.—The Committee of Locomotive and Carriage Superintendents of the Indian Railway Conference Association having had under consideration the question of the minimum number of head-lights necessary on every engine to allow a sufficient margin of safety to provide against accidental total extinguishment, are of opinion that at least two head-lights in the direction of running are necessary.
